EXTERIOR DESIGN
Location : Darrus ,Tehran ,Iran
Status : Under Construction (Initial design)
Classic or Roman view is one of the most beloved types of building view. The range of the classic look is world wide and can be said to have its own enthusiasts all over the world. Symmetry is one of the most important principles of classical view design. The classic view is very original. As in the modern world, countries like the US are building their classical office buildings.

Living room design
These days, the main focal point of the living room or the determining point of its style is the design of its modern sofa. A modern sofa defines the beauty of the space that combines both shape and function

Neoclassical interior design
As a popular design style today, neoclassical has an established charm that can feel elegant and appropriate in almost any space. Many people apply it when they want something cozy and classic in their apartment or modernist styles. As with all design styles, the key elements are colors, furniture and decorative motifs. Bringing these together with the right rug can help you transform a space. Colors: Neoclassical colors tend to be very mild. They include white, cream, gray, yellow, blue, green and other muted hues. Black, red, silver and gold may be used as accent colors. Most patterns feature low-contrast palettes. Furniture: This style is characterized by simple and symmetrical furniture. Furniture typically has exposed wood or metal structure providing an outline of the shape. Many pieces are embellished with ornamental ends. Upholstery is typically high-quality and luxurious without being ostentatious. A classical-style chaise lounge is a common feature of sitting areas.
